Report of Phil Herold, county recorder, for month of April, 1907, audited and filed.

Sheriff's report of licenses issued during month of April, 1907 audited and filed.

A petition signed by residents and taxpayers of road district No. 6, was presented to the board praying for change in the county road from Washington Camp to Duquesne as follows:

"Beginning at a point on the county road between Washington and Duquesne about 1600 feet from the store in Washington Camp, thence south 30 degrees east 800 feet to a point; thence south 40 degrees west 450 feet to a point; thence south 45 degrees east 400 feet to a point; thence south 30 degrees east 350 feet to a point, thence south 5 degrees west 520 feet to a point in the county road which point is about 300 feet east of the so-called Bonanza shaft of the Duquesne Mining & Reduction Company.

Upon motion, all members voting "aye," the petition was accepted and clerk instructed to have the necessary legal notices posted and that Monday, June 3rd, 1907, be the date set for the hearing of said petition.

Upon motion, the board adjourned until Monday, June 3rd 1907.

Approved: J. A. HARRISON, CHAIRMAN.

Attest: PHIL HEROLD, CLERK.

How Judge Cowan Lost Out.

Judge L. O. Cowan was recently in the city and related a somewhat novel experience had while on his last trip to the mines in Sonora, of which he is superintendent. He had with him some $330 in Mexican silver and not caring to carry it with him to camp he halted by the wayside, dug a hole and, as he thought, securely hid it from intending robbers. Later he returned to the cache for the purpose of uncovering his valuables. He found the place all right, but the money was gone. One of two things appear certain. He either dug the hole too deep and a Chinaman reached up and got it, or he did not dig it deep enough and the bottom was still within reach of some prowling hand of a son of the Land of Manyana. To still further complicate matters when he returned to the place where he had temporarily placed his overcoat while in the act of recovering his coin, he found it also gone. It had no legs when he last saw it, but thinks it probably borrowed a pair and hid out on him in the brush. Coinless and coatless temporarily he returned to the bosom of the Stars and Stripes a more thoughtful and wiser man.—Post.

Col. Greene's Vast Chihuahua Interests.

Colonel W. O. Greene and a large party of eastern capitalists, accompanied by Acting Governor Jose Sanchez, Constitution Governor L. Terrazas, Editor L. Q. Taylor of the Chihuahua Enterprise, and several other local parties, left Chihuahua for the new lumber of Madera, the center of the immense lumber enterprise being exploited by the Sierra Madre Land and Lumber company of which Col. Greene is president. They will also visit the properties of the Greene Gold Silver company at Concheno, another Greene enterprise which is being operated on a tremendous scale.

In the scope of its operations no lumber company on the North American continent compares with the Sierra Madre Land and Lumber company, and probably none in the world approaches it in extensiveness.

The two mills now in the course of construction, when completed, will have a combined capacity of 500,000 feet of lumber per day. The company is now constructing its own broad gauge railroad, twenty-two kilometers of which have been completed. Of the railroad equipment there have been received 500 flat cars and one engine, with 100 logging cars, 200 box cars and four engines to arrive before July 15. Two steam railroad cranes are also to be delivered before that date. Two hundred cars of freight are now being unloaded and 150 cars are expected to arrive within a few weeks.

The lumber camp is to be equipped with an electric light and power plant of 1000-horse power and a pumping station with a capacity of 7,500,000 gallons every twenty four hours. This plant is now nearing completion.

E. H. Hargrave, general manager of the lumber company, who arrived from the states, stated that one of the mills would be in operation and turning out 250,000 feet of lumber daily by July 15. Thirteen hundred men, under the direction of Assistant General Manager Tullock, are now working on the buildings for the mill.—Copper Era.

Men Taught Mining at Bisbee.

The Benson Press was mistaken about Organizer Cannon going to Denver last week. A score or more of young men have been in Benson this week each bearing certificates signed Jos. D. Cannon organizer, and Frank Brown secretary, commending them to all union men for refusing to work in the Bisbee mines after being brought from Denver, and expenses paid with the understanding that the strike was off. The men say there were 35 in the party who left Denver with a Calumet & Arizona man, who paid their fare. Only three or four had ever mined but the C. & A. man said they could go right in and be taught mining, receiving full miners wages from the start—$4 for eight hour shifts. They were entertained in a royal manner by the local union, and convinced that the strike was still on, so only three or four went to work, one of the latter quitting after two shifts. They say Cannon was to start today for Denver to attend the National convention on the 10th—Benson Press.

Would-Be Lyncher Acquitted.

After being out twenty minutes the jury in the case of the four men charged at Globe with rioting at the attempted lynching of William Baldwin, returned a verdict of not guilty. The verdict was not unexpected. On the contrary it has been generally held that no twelve men could be found in the county who would convict men implicated in the attempt to lynch the negro on the night of February 2, last.

New Text Books Ordered.

You are going to be called on to buy new text books for your school children next fall. This is the first change made in five years, and the board of education concluded that a change was necessary.

The text books selected are: Spencer's Practical Writing—this is the old Spencerian hand; Angsburg System of Drawing; Emerson and Bender's Grammar; Modern Music series; readers: Wideawake Primer, Art Literature Primer, Art Literature First, Second and Third Readers, and Progressive Series of Readers re-adopted; Walsh's Primary and Grammar School Arithmetic; Peterman's Civil Government readopted; Sprague Classical Readers discontinued, Progressive Speller adopted; McMaster's Histories; Tarr & McMurray Geographies; Overton's Physiology readopted.

The following list was adopted for ninth and tenth grades: Wentworth's Elementary Algebra; Myer's General History; Lessons in Physical Geography by Drer; Jegg's Physiology; Avery's Elementary Physics; Wentworth's Plain Geometry; Robinson New Higher Arithmetic; Rhetoric and English Composition, by Carpenter.

An understanding was made by the board with the successful bidders that they would sell to the wholesale dealers for 25 per cent, less than retail prices, and that the publishers would furnish books to the people at retail prices and pay the postage in case the retail merchants undertook to charge more than the retail prices.—Ex.

Engineers in the Field.

Engineer Sroufe, of the Randolph lines, who arrived here Saturday a week ago from Tucson, has engaged in direction of reconnaissance for a line from Del Rio to Nogales, while Engineer Reagan is making a final trip over the route from Del Rio to Imuris. It is understood that both routes present engineering difficulties which call for a good deal of further thought before final grade strikes are put down. Understanding so far is that the Imuris line will be built without doubt and with all possible speed, while it is possible that the direct line to Nogales will also be built. The latter depends, however, to considerable extent upon the findings which Mr. Sroufe may make with regard to the feasibility from the engineering standpoint. If the city can get the two lines it will be playing in double luck and will have just that much more country made tributary to it. Along both are mineralized sections which would benefit greatly from railroad building and which would in the event of direct connection with Cananea for the large part of their machinery and other supplies. While the parties of Mr. Sroufe and Mr. Reagan are in the field grading out from Del Rio on the Imuris line continues uninterrupted. Rapid headway is being made with a large working force, to which additions are being made steadily.—Cananea Herald.

Mexico is Square.

Mexican authorities have a way of strictly enforcing the laws of their land which compels unaccounted astonishment from Americans of a certain class who are unaccustomed to pay much attention to the laws of their native land.

The price of peaceful possession of mining property in Mexico is a strict compliance with Mexican laws. In most cases it is probable that the companies failing to observe these laws have property of doubtful value, and are "operating in Mexico" for what can be made in stocks in the United States.—Los Angeles Mining Review.

Exactly.

The Yaquis have broken out again. It's queer that these outrages are never heard of until they are reported in El Paso by some returning Americans.—Globe Belt.

Well, you see those kind of stories grow as they travel from home. The "returning Americans" probably heard in Nogales or Naco about Indian outrages that occurred on the Border or fifty years ago.—El Paso Times.
